COME GROW WITH US!

FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

God is doing big things at our (relatively) small pregnancy center. We started a new digital marketing campaign to abortion-vulnerable women last fall. Our goal is to reach every woman in our service area that needs our help. The last quarter of 2021 was the busiest in the center's history, and we expect those numbers to grow in 2022.

Patrick Novecosky

Thanks to you, we've been able to serve those growing numbers of women seeking free pregnancy tests, ultrasounds, diapers, clothing, cribs, car seats, and formula. Your support has allowed us to increase our staffing from two to four. It's also allow us to expand our events, community presence, and service offerings.

A few weeks ago, a retired medical doctor told us she wanted to volunteer. While we're still working out the details, this seems to be an answered prayer. The free clinic in Warrenton does not offer pre-natal care or OB/GYN services. One of my longer-term goals for the Warrenton Pregnancy Center is to offer those services for our clients at least one day a week.

If we're to succeed in expanding our services as we grow, we'll need the support of our community more than ever. I'm confident we'll succeed because God always comes through for those who honor him and humble themselves before him.

As we gear up for our annual gala (see page 3), we encourage you to consider a pre-gala gift. While the gala is a free event, we are offering our business sponsors and larger donors the opportunity to participate in a VIP event with our speaker, Angela Grey, if their gift is locked in by April 4. It will be a remarkable event for all who attend. Details: wpcpartners.org/events

Thank you for your gracious support of our work, serving the most vulnerable among us!

COME GROW WITH US GALA FEATURING MISS AMERICA 2001

Angela Grey has known victory and heartache, and she's borne it all with grace thanks to her deep faith in God. She will keynote our 2022 "Come Grow With Us" Gala on April 29 at the Inn at Vint Hill.

As Miss America 2001, Grey became the first Asian-American woman to win the crown. She spent a year crisscrossing the nation, and now works as the principal of a Catholic school in Los Angeles. Her personal goal is to empower good teachers and protect children from being shuffled from school to school.

As one of 10 children born to immigrant parents in Hawaii, Angela has also known tragedy. Four years after winning the Miss America crown, her beloved younger brother, Albert, committed suicide. Angela is also a breast cancer survivor.

The passionately pro-life mother of five promotes the idea of "whole life," emphasizing the intrinsic dignity of the human person from natural conception to natural death. After her brother's suicide in 2006, Angela spoke even more forcefully on pro-life issues and the importance of faith and family. She is the author of the inspirational memoir, Amazing Win, Amazing Loss: Miss America Living Happily, Even After.

"I cannot wait to share my story with the supporters of the Warrenton Pregnancy Center," she said. "Despite the doom and gloom of COVID and the politicization of everything in our culture, there are so many good and hopeful things happening in our country."

Top donors will have the opportunity to meet Angela at a VIP reception prior to the gala. The evening also includes a live auction, silent auction, live music, raffles, and a catered dinner.

We are in need of business sponsors and auction items, including gift cards. If you are interested in giving an early gift or becoming a business sponsor, please contact us: info@wpc.life or (540) 300-7721.

A WORD OF GRATITUDE

BY PATRICK NOVECOSKY

Your support — prayer power and sacrificial giving — is bearing great fruit.

Every other week, we're sending out prayer request emails. Your response has been extraordinary. Let me know if you want to join the list. Also, your response to our Christmas mailing was record-breaking, bringing in close to $20,000.

A big thank you for financial gifts from The Bridge Community Church, Battlefield Baptist Church, Trinity Lutheran Church, and Monterey Church. We're also grateful to Saint John the Evangelist's Knights of Columbus Ladies Auxiliary for collecting items for our "new mom bags." Thanks, also, to Holy Trinity Gainesville for donating gifts from their Christmas Giving Tree.
